Don't Quit

There will be times in your life when you feel like quitting. You know the moment. Sometimes it is for a minute, sometimes it is for an hour, or a week, or a season. In these moments, your heart hurts. Anxiety fills your chest and weariness your bones.

It is in clarifying moments like these, when our coping mechanisms have failed, that we see things as they truly are. The truth is that you are not alone. You have never been alone.

The truth is that your pain and trials will be redeemed.

Your choice to persevere matters more than you know. It is through suffering that we will discover what we truly believe. The path to character is the path to hope.

There will be a time to cease striving, but it is not now. Stop listening to the voice that whispers for you to give up. It is not from the One who loves you the most and who loves you the best. We are in this together and you are loved.

“Therefore we do not lose heart, but though our outer man is decaying, yet our inner man is being renewed day by day.” (II Corinthians 4:16)

“Let us not lose heart in doing good, for in due time we will reap if we do not grow weary.” (Galatians 6:9)
