Momma Always Said

Here are some things you heard as a kid, along with their Biblical equivalents:

“Two wrongs don't make a right” - "Do not be overcome by evil but overcome evil with good." (Rom 12:21) It is never right to do wrong. There is no justification for it. More wrong does not make the world better. It only makes it worse. It is always right to do right. We do right no matter what others do to us.

“If you don't have anything nice to say, then don't say anything at all” - "Let your speech always be with grace." (Col 4:6) We live in an unfiltered world where everyone has a platform to say whatever they want whenever they want. This has not made the world better. We should all show restraint and refuse to give in to the temptation to say or post whatever is on our minds. Instead, we should choose to use our words to encourage and build up.

“Just because everyone else is doing it, doesn't make it right” - "Be imitators of me, just as I also am of Christ." (I Cor 11:1). It doesn't matter what everyone else is doing. It doesn't matter if our friends, our leaders, or our enemies are doing it. We have one example, and that is Jesus. If we are not following Jesus, then we are not doing what we are supposed to do.
